ULLMANN REGULARS WIN FIRST CONTEST

Whitewash Elkhart Maroons
by 37-0 Score—Irish Regulars and Elkhart Tigers Play to Scoreless Tie.

Ullmann's Regulars ran up a total of 37 to 0 against the Elkhart Maroons on the north side gridiron Sunday afternoon in the first big football game of the season.

The game was fast throughout although the local team had it all over the visitors. A good line on the part of the Elkharts however made the playing difficult for the local aggregation and as a result the crowd was treated to sensational and runs and long dashes for big gains. For the first game of the year the work was of a high order. The local boys showed a complete mastery of the signals as well as several novel and difficult plays. The forward pass was also used some with good success.

As far as weight went the two teams were evenly matched. The local look all honors however in a comparison of playing ability.

On account of the "fog" into which the game resolved itself after a short amount of play, Capt. Straub gave all of the men a workout. They showed up well and it will be difficult to settle on just eleven men for the regular lineup.

The players all showed up well Sunday afternoon, it being difficult to pick individual stars. The two backs at the right half back position were good on the offensive as was DeBose and Leidecker. Capt. Straub played a heady game at end while Jerry Raab played his regular reliable position at the pivot position. In fact the entire team showed up well, none of the players being below par.

The lineup of the two teams was as follows:

REGULARS	ELKHART
Raah, Wilke	C. Morcy
Scheffer	L.G. Warner
DeCoff	L.T. Poisson
Straub	W. D.
Cortier	R.T. D.
Forsythe	R.T. D.
B. Schiebhut	R.E. D.
Culp, Barney	R.E. D.

Irishmen Battle To Tie.

In the vacant field across the tracks from the big gridiron where the Ullman Regulars and Elkhart Maroons were fighting it out, the Irish Regulars, a crack 140 pound aggregation from this city, played a game with the Elkhart Tigers resulting in a scoreless tie.

As far as football was concerned the game was probably up to the quality displayed at the big game. The evenness of the two teams and the lack of sensational runs for touch downs failed to attract the crowd, however, that attended the "big match."

No Balloon Ascension.

A drawing card for the football games on the north side Sunday was the announcement that Herb Churchill, the daring one-armed balloonist, would make an ascension and a double parachute drop from the football grounds.

The monster gas bag was transported to the gridiron and everything shaped for the flight but at the last moment Churchill called it off. He found a big hole in his balloon which was of such a size that it could not be repaired in time for the flight Sunday. It will be remembered that someone poured acid on the sturdy "Paul" several days ago, cutting large holes in it. Churchill was thought that all holes were mended but the one found Sunday was probably one caused at this time which had been overlooked by the repairmen.

Of course the crowd was disappointed but none the less so was Churchill. He announces that he will have his good ship repaired immediately and promises to make another flight and the long expected double parachute drop before he leaves the city.

FORBIDDEN CHICKEN HAS SERIOUS RESULTS

LINTON, Sept. 29.—Little Eva Strahla, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Strahla, is unable to use her esophagus for the first time in a week, following an operation at the Union hospital. Two years ago the child swallowed a quantity of lye, causing a partial stricture of the esophagus, and since that time had been denied meat by her parents, who found that it aggravated her case. A week ago without her parents knowledge Eva obtained a large piece of chicken and was hurriedly eating it when detected. As the result of eating the forbidden food the stricture became worse and she could not swallow at all. Friday she was brought to the hospital a large piece of the chicken had become lodged in the esophagus, and when this was removed the child was again able to swallow to some extent and is improving.

ELLSASSER BOWLING SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Bowling will be resumed in the Mishawaka, City and Watch Factory leagues Monday evening on the Ellsasser alleys. This is the third week for the two local leagues and the fourth for the South Bend aggregation. All teams are now getting back into last year's form and good scores are looked for in every contest.

On account of the few games rolled the teams are all within a short distance of last year's form and good scores are looked for in every contest. The lineup for the coming week is as follows:

Mishawaka league—Monday, Flying Dutchman vs. Rubber Ke. Tuesday, All Dudes vs. Casaca. Wednesday, Canadians vs. Crescents. Thursday, Beaters vs. Oscars.

City league—Monday, Regulars vs. Ellsasser. Tuesday, Ambassadors vs. Grayhounds. Wednesday, City Hall vs. Nationals. Thursday, Americans vs. Dad's Specials.

Watch Co. league—Monday, Timings vs. Jewels. Tuesday, Matchers vs. Adjusters. Wednesday, Finishings vs. Dials. Thursday, Dismassemblies vs. Flat Sticks.

CITY'S BASEBALL TEAM LOSES SIX TO NOTHING

Reluctant to acknowledge football king, the Mishawaka baseball team journeyed to Elkhart Sunday afternoon and met the Elkhart Blue Sox. The local team was defeated by a 6-0 score. The game was clean and fast throughout, but the Mishawakans were unable to take advantage of several chances offered to score. Elkhart was on the job every minute and displayed a remarkable speed in the contest.

Left pitched for Mishawaka, supplanting Fisher, who held down the mound position during the summer. Dolph at shortstop was the only other addition to the regular lineup.

Mishawaka and Elkhart have each won a game from each other and there is considerable talk of squibbing the deciding match. Manager Squibbs of the local aggregation stated that negotiations would probably be completed during the week for this game if it is to be played.

GOLD DIGGER REPORTS ON NEW YUKON FIELD

DAWSON, Yukon, Sept. 29.—Dr. Cairns, the Canadian government geologist, and his party, who arrived from the Sushanna strike, brought more samples of gold with them.

The doctor also reports that the discoverers are taking out $300 a day from Little Eldorado claim. There will be no wintered mining, but plenty of work for claim owners building cabins and cutting wood and lumber and in freighting.

Many stamperers are wandering about looking for claims to stake, but find that the ground has been all taken.

One thousand pounds of supplies which Dr. Cairns had been stolen from the caches along the upper White river and the mounted police will open three posts along this route within the next few days. Dr. Cairns says the United States and Canadian officials possibly should keep out every one not going to the diggings with ample supplies.

MR. AND MRS. BECHER MARRIED 25 YEARS

Well Known Couple Entertain Guests in Celebration of Event—Three Generations
Present at Affair.

Mr. and Mrs. John Becher, 219 W. Seventh st., celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday evening at their home. Fifty guests were present and enjoyed a 6 o'clock dinner. Members of incidents connected with the early life of the married couple formed an interesting topic of conversation during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Becher were married on September 23, 1888, at St. Joseph's church in this city. The late pastor, Rev. A. B. Oeschering performed the ceremony. Mrs. Becher was formerly Miss Helen DeGroot.

To the union have been born seven children all of whom are living at home. They are the Misses Laura, Gertrude, Bertha, Charlotte, Genevieve and Fred and Clarence.

For the occasion the Becher home was prettily decorated with amyls and cut flowers. Vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed during the evening.

A pleasing incident in connection with the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary is the fact that Mrs. Becher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeGroot, were present at the reception as well as Mr. Becher's father, John Becher.

The congratulations of many relatives and friends were received by the well known couple Sunday on the occasion of the anniversary. It was believed to have been obtained through the intervention of the Virgin Mary, who is so especially invoked in the devotion of the rosary. This was ordered by Pope Pius V to be an annual commemoration under the title of St. Mary de Victoria.

MISSION FEAST HELD AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

An annual mission feast was observed Sunday at St. Peter's Lutheran church. Rev. George Shutes of Kokomo, Ind., a prominent Negro missionary, was in charge of the special services.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning special services were conducted at the church in the German language. The evening services were held at 7 o'clock and these were conducted in English. The Apollo choir sang at both services.

The visiting missionary was the guest of the pastor of the church, Rev. and Mrs. Otto Turk, at their E. Fourth st. home. He is nationally known and has done great work in the interest of the black man.

MOTHER MAKES VAIN ATTEMPT TO SAVE BABES

Three Children Burned to Death
When Trapped by Flames—Woman May Die From Burns.

WELLINGTON, Mo., Sept. 29.—Three children were burned to death and their mother perhaps fatally burned while trying to save them during a fire that destroyed the home of Mrs. Jesse Alumbaugh on a farm near here early Sunday.

Mrs. Alumbaugh with two of the older children and her sister was sleeping on the first floor, and Claude, 7; Myrtle, 5; and Agnes, 4, were asleep upstairs when the fire broke out. Those downstairs got out in safety.

To rescue the three younger children Mrs. Alumbaugh ascended a short ladder and attempted to reach them through a window. The flames entrapped her, however, and she was forced to retreat after receiving burns that may prove fatal.

Mr. Alumbaugh was away from home.

STOLE $1,400 TO GO TO OXFORD UNIVERSITY

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—In order to satisfy his ambition to go to Oxford university, Wm. Foerste, a 17 year old errand boy stole $1,400 from a Cleveland, O., department store last Saturday, he told detectives Sunday who arrested him on his arrival from the Ohio city. Foerste explained that he planned to sail on the Mauretania Wednesday for England and enter a preparatory school to fit himself for Oxford.

When an assistant cashier in the store gave him the $1,400 to take to the office of the chief cashier, Foerste couldn't resist the temptation to satisfy his ambition, he told his captors, and cramming the money in his pockets started immediately for New York.

Young Foerste will be arraigned tomorrow on the charge of grand larceny and will be held for officers from Cleveland with requisition papers. He said he would plead guilty on his return to Cleveland and throw himself on the mercy of the court.

OCTOBER MEANS EIGHTH MONTH

By the Saxons It Was Known as the "Wine Month"—
Saints' Day For the Week.

The following are the saints' days for the coming week: Sunday, Sept. 29, Eustochium, virgin, 419; Lioba, abbess, 779; Wenceslaus, duke of Bohemia, martyr, 938. Sept. 29, Michael and all the holy angels. Sept. 30, Jerome of Aquileia, doctor of the church, 429; Gregory, apostle of Armenia, beginning of the fourth century, Oct. 1, festival of the rosary; Oct. 2, feast of the holy angel guardians, Oct. 3, Dionysius the Areopagite, bishop of Athens, martyr, first century; Gerard, about 959. Oct. 4, Francis of Assisi, founder of the friars, 1226.

October is so called from being the eighth month in the year according to the old Alban or Latin calendar. It was styled by the Saxons Wymonath, (German Weymonath) of the wine month. In allusion to this epithet an old writer remarks: "And albeit they had not anciently wines made in Germany, yet in this season had they then brought from divers countries adjoining."

Oct. 23 the sun enters the sign of Scorpio, an astronomical emblem said to typify the increasing power of cold and winter in the same manner as the equal influence of cold and heat are represented by Libra, or the balance, the sign of the preceding month of September.

The rosary as is well known, is in the Roman Catholic church, a series of prayers, consisting of 15 Pater Nosters (Our Father) and 150 Ave Marias (Hall Marys) which, for the convenience of worshippers, are counted on a string of beads. Each of such strings of beads consists of 15 decades, each of which decades contains one Pater Noster, marked by a large bead, and ten Ave Marias, marked by ten smaller beads.

The festival of the rosary was instituted to implore the divine favor of the church and all the faithful and to return thanks for the benefits conferred on them.

More especially was this done because of the great victory of Lepanto over the Turks in 1571. This success, believed to have been obtained through the intervention of the Virgin Mary, who is so especially invoked in the devotion of the rosary, was ordered by Pope Pius V to be an annual commemoration under the title of St. Mary de Victoria.

This epithet was, however, changed by his successor, Gregory XIII, into the title of the "Feast of the Rosary." The victory of Prince Eugene over the Turks at Belgrade in 1716 was ordered by Clement XII to be included in the benefits which this office specially commemorates.

Francis, "the gentle and the holy," was born in 1182 in the romantic Italian village of Assisi, in Umbria. His sympathy with nature was very keen. He spoke of birds and beasts with the tenderness due to children and the only malediction for his wild youth ever heard to proceed from his lips, was against a fierce hog which had killed a lamb. He was an especial fondness for lambs and larks as emblems of the Redeemer and the Cherubim.

In one of his hymns he speaks of his brother the sun, his sister the moon, his brother the wind, his sister the water. When dying he said, "Welcome, sister death." While in prayer it is said he often floated in the air. His secretary and biographer, testified that he had raised above the ground so high that he could only touch his feet, which he (Leo) held and watered with his tears; and that sometimes he saw Francis raised much higher.

SPARE THE MEADOW LARK, SAYS UNCLE SAM

While He Eats Grain He More Than Makes Up For It by Killing Insects.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—There are two species of meadow larks in the United States—one in the east and the other in the west. They resemble each other in plumage and habits, though differing much in song, the song of the western being loud, clear and melodious, while that of the eastern is softer and less musical.

In many localities the meadow lark is classed and shot as a game bird. From the farmer's standpoint this is a mistake, since its value as an insect eater is far greater than as an object of pursuit by the sportsman. Both the boll weevil, the foe of the cotton grower, and the alfalfa weevil are among the beetles it habitually eats. Twenty-five percent of the diet of this bird is beetles, half of which are predaceous ground beetles, accounted useful insects, and one-fifth are destructive weevils. Caterpillars form 11 percent of the food, and are eaten in every month of the year. Among these are many cutworms, and the well known army worm. Grasshoppers are favorite food, and are eaten in every month and almost every day. The vegetable diet (23 percent of the whole) consists of grain and weed seeds.

Recent studies of the western meadow lark, reported by Dr. C. Bryant of the California station of the United States department of agriculture, show that while this bird may do considerable damage in destroying sprouting grain, it also consumes large quantities of destructive insects, and when the benefits are balanced against the injuries "there remains no doubt that the bird deserves protection and encouragement, its value as a destroyer of injurious insects far outweighing the detriment as a destroyer of sprouting grain."

BORDERED POINTS OUT VALUE OF HOG CHOLERA SERUM

BY JOHN S. BORDNER,
County Agriculture Agent.

On Jan. 1, 1913, there were 14,018 hogs on the farms of St. Joseph county. During 1912, 1,995 hogs died on these same farms. It is safe in assuming, that practically all of these died of cholera, since the loss occurred in the summer months, when cholera had been an epidemic during 1912.

During 1912 12,742 hogs were marketed by our farmers at an average price of $15. At $15 per head 1,995 hogs would have added $29,925 to the bank deposits of our farmers.

I mention this statistical evidence and the fact that this $29,925 of additional wealth which might have been created and disseminated through the various channels of trade and industry of our county, was lost simply because an ultra-visible organism commonly known as hog cholera bacterium, did not let its rights to multiply and replenish its kind in out hog lots challenged, by the owners of the hogs it killed.

The owners could have challenged this disease by very simple and the primary reason why it is not more generally used I attribute to the fact that there is that slothfulness in all mankind, which makes everybody perfectly willing to let the fellow suffer anything new and untried, first.

Well, enough farmers have now had anti-hog cholera serum administered by a competent veterinarian in St. Joseph county to tell the rest of us that it is the only sure way to conquer hog cholera.

The serum has been used by many farmers whose herds were in danger of becoming infected from diseased hogs and whose carefully administered absolutely no ill effects resulted and these hogs are now immune.

A few herds were vaccinated after infection and even in these herds some with high fever were saved while those, which showed no fever were all saved. I might say here, that I am speaking only of those herds whose owners asked co-operation in getting the serum properly administered. Therefore, if there are any non-infected herds in the county which were treated with good serum and results were only partial success, the cause must certainly be attributed to poor methods such as improperly disinfecting the skin, using dirty needles, carelessness in expelling air from the hypodermic and negligence in taking the body temperature of hogs in exposed herds and as sequence occasionally giving virulent blood where cholera fever was present.

J. D. Collins, who has one of the largest herds of pure bred big-boned Poland China hogs in the state, and who, unfortunately was recently reported as having cholera in his herd, which was a gross injustice, since the temperature of every one of his hogs when vaccinated was normal, telephoned from his farm northwest of South Bend saying:

"Tell the farmers of St. Joseph county the double treatment administered to my herd last week was an absolute success and I attribute this to the splendid methods of administering the serum and virulent blood, which the veterinarians practiced."

It may be of interest to mention here that hogs weighing 800 pounds and over were treated in this herd.

Mr. Collins says further, that no hog will ever pass the 75 pound mark on his farm without being rendered permanently immune, since at that size the dose of serum is comparatively small, as is also the expense. St. Joseph county should have at least 50,000 good healthy hogs growing to $4 per hundred weight hogs now, as it is, there are approximately one-third that many and a very large percentage of these still unprotected against hog cholera.

By vaccination we can eliminate the hog cholera loss, which last year

PICK HUSBAND BY WAY HE EATS FOOD

PARIS, Sept. 29.—If you want to know the character of the man you intend to marry watch him eat a peach," is the advice given to fiancées in the Figaro by Elie Doutrin, a well known French writer.

"You should watch carefully at the table the young man on whom your whole future will depend," he says. "If he bends over his knife and fork and finishes his roast in three gulps, beware! He is not the man who will be able to submit to tender sympathy, and he is careless if he eats without enjoying what is put before him and can tell you the menu the minute after. It means disappointment for you. He will never appreciate the hats you wear, nor the style of your dresses, and you will look pretty for nothing."

"If he is immediately fond of sweets he is of a nervous disposition and will nag. If it be cheese and roast he prefers, he will be muscular and placid. If he be a bread eater at times, he is found of the country."

"The best test of your future husband is to watch him at the moment of dessert. See how he handles a peach. Does he take it distractedly or like a man in a hurry? Does he swallow it hastily? Then you say to yourself, he is not the husband for me. But if he takes it slowly, tenderly like a connoisseur who appreciates what he eats; if he does not swallow it at once but peels it with the air of an artist and treats it with devotion, then don't hesitate to marry him as quickly as you can."

KILLS SELF AFTER VAIN BATTLE WITH POLICE

Murderer of Philadelphia Officer, Who Escaped Prison, Is Surrounded in Lodging House.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 29.—Realizing that further resistance was useless after he had exhausted his supply of ammunition in a battle with half a score of policemen who had surrounded him in a lodging house here early this morning, Homer Wiggins, murderer of a Philadelphia policeman and who escaped from the Eastern penitentiary in that city on Aug. 20, sent the one remaining bullet in his revolver through his brain, dying almost instantly. Policeman Scott was shot over the heart by Wiggins before the convict committed suicide and may die.

Policemen stationed themselves on adjoining roofs and in doorways and trolley cars were held up while volley after volley of shots were fired at the convict who seemed to be concealing his ammunition and only fired when one of the attacking party came within view.

After an hour's fusillade the report of a muffled shot came from Wiggins room and the firing ceased. The patrolmen believing one of their bullets had found its mark, entered the house and broke the convict's door down and discovered the convict's body. A note found at his side read:

"Dear Mother—Do not worry about me. I am better off dead. I will have no more misery. I am going to commit suicide. They will never take me alive. Goodbye, Loving Son."
"Homer."

ONE THOUSAND PERSONS SEE GYPSY WEDDING

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 29.—In the presence of about a thousand curious people, a gypsy wedding was performed just outside the southern city limits Sunday afternoon. The participants were Anna Charevoy, a gypsy princess, to be married to Adam, the son of the chief of another tribe. The weird ceremony was performed by an Indian minister from Wisconsin. The couple did not deem it necessary to take out a marriage license.

CONSTITUTIONALIST ARMY IN RETREAT

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mexico, Sept. 29.—Reports from Sabinal and Barroteran indicates that the constitutionalist army has met defeat and is in full retreat with 1,600 federals in pursuit.

Americans who last week were ordered to leave the disturbed district, arrived from the front today and asserted that the great mining properties at Manori, Aranjilla, Rosita and possibly Esperanza, as well as the town of Barroteran had been destroyed to prevent their capture by the federals.

At least 3,000 refugees from the disturbed district are reported fleeing towards Piedras Negras with the intention of crossing the border into Texas.

Heavy loss of life was reported in the two days' fighting which began yesterday before Aurara, when constitutionalists massed for a desperate attempt to check the long expected federal invasion of Coahuila, the constitutionalists stronghold. All property which might have been used by the federalists, much of it owned by foreigners, was dynamited or burned. Hiquique was abandoned by the constitutionalists and a number of federal prisoners executed when it was learned the federals had occupied Barroteran. Tonight the retreating constitutionalists halted at Sabinal, reorganizing for an assault on the federals tomorrow with the assistance of 1,000 troops reported en route from Matamoros to join them.
